ANNIKA TRAY TABLE

Dimensions: 21.75 DIA X 22H

Materials: Quartered White Oak

Designed by: Maxine Snider

Description: Tray tables have been popular since the 18th century, especially in England where they more often had elaborate inlay designs and decorative cross banding. Often called butler's tables for their functionality in serving, the tray table was valued for its versatility and portability. The Annika Tray Table follows this tradition in a clean and modern style, offering a complete and independent table beneath the removable tray.
